"Live in the joy of today;
Everything that lives
lives not alone or for itself.

"Look well to this one day
For it, and it alone, is LIFE.
In the brief courses of this one day lie all the verities and realities of your existence."

"Life — so they say —
Is but a game and they let it slip away.
Love — like the autumn sun
Should be dying, but it's only just begun
Like the twilight in the road up ahead
They don't see just where we're going
And all the secrets in the universe
Whisper in our ears and all the years will come and go
And take us up — always up.

We may never pass this way again." *

they are so placid and self-contained;
I stand and look at them long and long
They do not sweat and whine about their

Francis P. Church

Backward, turn backward, O Time, in your flight,
Make me a child again just for tonight!

Elizabeth A. Allen

Know you what it is to be a child? It is to be something very different from the man of today. It is to have a spirit yet streaming from the waters of baptism; it is to believe in love, to believe in loveliness, to believe in belief; it is to be so little that the elves can reach to whisper in your ear; it is to turn pumpkins into coaches, and mice into horses, lowness into loftiness, and nothing into everything, for each child has its fairy godmother in its soul.

Soraya Cecilia Ramos Mujica

Soraya comes from Caracas, Venezuela, as a participant in the International High School Program of the Experiment in International Living, Brattleboro, Vermont. The third teenager in her family of eight children to be an exchange student in the U.S., Soraya is a graduate of the Instituto 5 de Octubre and plans to study medicine in Venezuela. She was a choir member and president of Student Public Relations as a senior in her school in Venezuela.

At Old Trail she is in the Upper School choir and French Club and is tutoring English and Spanish. She plays the "cuatro," a small guitar, writes poetry, and enjoys speaking English and making new friends.

Founded in 1906, the Cum Laude Society is a fellowship of scholars whose purpose is to recognize excellence in academic work. The Old Trail Chapter was chartered in 1948.

The number of outstanding students from the senior and junior classes, who meet the qualifications set by the Old Trail Chapter, is limited by the constitution of the national organization. Old Trail may rightfully be proud of its Cum Laude members who have gone on to set impressive records in their advanced academic careers.

Teachers and administrators are elected on a similar basis; a minimum number of such members is also set by the national constitution.

Man strives for glory, honor, fame,
That all the world may know his name.
Amasses wealth by brain and hand;
Becomes a power in the land,
But when he nears the end of life
And looks back over the years of strife,
He finds that happiness depends
On none of these but love of friends.

Dear Seniors:
We've watched your books gather dust;
We hope your brains are without rust;
Of course, your tennis shoes are old —
It's easy to see; just look at the mold.
Our memories of you won't disappear
While you're at college, drinking beer.
So think of us as you sip that ale
And remember us at Old Trail!

Halloween

Ghosts and Goblins of all sizes, ages, and characters roam Old Trail halls and haunts its classroom on All Hallows' Eve. The Fifth Grade's original tombstones cast a facetiously grim air on the Middle School corridor (top).
